Our commitments for 2012-2013

For a school that is open to Japan and to the world

- At the elementary level, working closely on the implementation of a new system of language options ("parcours langues") and the Japanese and English bilingual sections, as opposed to streams which tend to create "ghetto-classrooms" and prevent exchanges between pupils of various backgrounds
- In the secondary school, aiming for Japan-educated students to be able to reach the Japanese language C1 level (between advanced and native) according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR)
- Development of a post-baccalauréat programme
- Creating a structure to welcome pupils whose families do not live in the Tokyo area
- Establishing relationships with local Japanese schools and with other international schools
- Participation in the "Salon étudiant du LFIT" (University Fair)
- Working in close collaboration with all the parents' representatives to advance common goals

For school that is accessible to all

- Defending financial stability while avoiding school fee hikes, thanks to economies of scales achieved with the relocation of the elementary and secondary schools to a single site
- Promoting a freeze in school fees hikes planned for 2013 (immediate action at the 2012 October board meeting), taking into account the current economical context and the recent suppression of the "Prise En Charge" (PEC)
- Towards a fairer system of scholarships, accessible to a larger number of families
- Reopening of the "bibliothèque familiale" (family library) with a fee structure that is acceptable to all families
- Promoting actions for sustainable development at LFIT
- We are happy to be able to offer discounts on school books and material to all AF-fcpe members (Omeisha in Iidabashi)

Our main successes in 2011-2012

- Promoting access for all to post- baccalauréat information and participating in the "Carrefour des Métiers" (Career Fair)
